Killed On Vacation Last Saturday Night On Fishing Venture

The sad intelligence reached here last week, that while on a fishing sojourn in Maine, Francis Power, age 34 son-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. David R. Porter, headmaster of Mt. Hermon school, was probably struck by a train, on a bridge from which he had been fishing, over a stream near Hinkle, on Wednesday of last week. He was thrown from the bridge into the water, from which he was rescued by the train crew and rushed to the hospital. There he died, late last Saturday evening. Mr. Power was the husband of Esther Porter, daughter of the Headmaster and his wife and was married at Mt. Hermon some three years ago. Mr. Power was business director of the Junior Program, Inc. of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. which produced plays for children. Next Sunday afternoon, there will be held at the Ford cottage at Mt. Hermon a memorial service, which friends are invited to attend.

Sankey Anniversary Observed Wednesday

The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Ira D. Sankey, was publicly observed, in the town of New Castle, Pa. on Wednesday of this week. A great public meeting was held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral of his home city and distinguished guests from various parts of the country were present to pay tribute to New Castle's world famed son. Doctor William Lyons Phelps in being informed of the celebration, said "In 1878 Moody and Sankey came to Hartford, Ct., where I was a schoolboy. The rink was opened for their meetings—an immense place like an armory. At the very first meeting Sankey sang, "Only An Armour Bearer," I heard him over and over again singing "Sowing the Seed," "Almost Persuaded," "The Ninety and Nine," "Are Your Windows Open?"—in fact I could go on indefinitely. He played his own accompaniment, and there was something about his baritone voice that was enormously affecting. He had a way of pausing between lines of the song and in that pause the vast audience remained absolutely silent. He was a man of the next character."

The speaker at the centennial celebration was Dr. Will H. Houghton president of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Congratulations were read from Mrs. William K. Moody of Northfield who presented to the town the organ used by Mr. Sankey in the meetings conducted by him and Dwight L. Moody throughout the world. Mrs. Victoria Sankey Packer of Greenfield was a guest of honor at the observance. Edward McHugh the radio singer, broadcasted the singing of "The Ninety and Nine" over WOR Wednesday morning. Reports reaching this town state that the meeting at New Castle was attended by thousands and that the centennial had been fittingly observed.

Summer Theatre Closes

Members of the Brattleboro summer theatre company have already left that town with the close of the season and the giving of the final production last Saturday evening. Although the last few weeks have returned a good income from well attended performances, the season has not proven a financial success. When Manager Harry Young was asked about the prospects for another year, he said that plans were doubtful and it was difficult to say at this time of what another year would bring forth. Friends from Northfield, who have been in attendance at many of the performances, will hope that the company under his direction will again return for a schedule next season. Most of the players will have a part in coming plays for the winter season, now being arranged in New York.

Was Well Attended

The Flower Show of the Garden club, which was held at the Chateau last week Wednesday and Thursday, established a new record for attendance. On Wednesday, there were 493 admissions on Thursday 382, a total of 865. Visitors registered from 21 states 4 foreign countries and 182 different cities and towns were represented. The show was a financial success and reflects considerable credit on its management committees.

Hotel Golf Course Presents Exhibition Well Known Players

This Friday afternoon beginning at 2:15 o'clock the management of the Northfield will sponsor an interesting golf exhibition. Harry Bent, the present club champion of Keene County club, will be paired with the Keene professional, Norman Vickery, against Charles Stadtmiller of the Indian Hill Country club of Hartford, Ct., and Al Raymond, the home professional.

Bent has been playing unusually good golf this season and should give a fine account of himself. This will be his first appearance in the annual exhibition which is held at the Northfield course. Vickery is perhaps best known as the inventor of the Vickery golf shaft, which has proved to be very popular during the last two or three years. He can be counted upon to play his usual excellent game.

Stadtmiller is perhaps the best known of the four players, particularly in the Springfield district. He made an enviable reputation for himself when he played from the Tekoa Country club a few years ago. He is now a resident of Hartford, and is one of the low handicap men in Connecticut. He is an exceptionally long driver and is sure to give the gallery a thrill with his powerful hitting. The home pro has shown an improved brand of golf throughout most of the season and should give his partner able support.

The public is cordially invited to attend the match. The players will tee off at 2:15 o'clock.

Not Since 1895 Such Cold Weather

The cold weather which has been prevalent since last Saturday hereabouts is a record breaker. Not since 1895 does the record contain any account of such low temperatures. The frost of Sunday morning left its telltale effects on gardens and on crops. The greatest damage has been to tobacco crops in the valley. It seems that the low-lying lands were hardest hit while the higher places escaped. Wherever one goes along the highways, evidence of frost damage can be seen. Summer residents in their cottages were compelled to light fires to keep warm and plenty of blankets were necessary at night. Visitors returning from along the Maine coast, say that the weather was unusually cold there. The cool weather has continued, but there may be plenty of warm days ahead before winter sets in.

Town Officials Invited

Invitations have been mailed to all town officials of the state and to many citizens to attend the annual conference on government problems, which will be held at the Massachusetts State college on Nov. 15 and 16. Many new problems facing the government of towns will be considered and speakers will present the various topics followed by a discussion. The conference, of the bureau of public administration, officials are hoping that every community will be represented and that Northfield will be recorded as responding.

Conference Addresses Now In Book Form Is Offered Subscribers

The addresses delivered at the various sessions of the Northfield General conference held this year have been printed and put into book form, uniform with the issues of the past several years. It provides a handy reservoir of thought and inspiration to the reader, whether such reader be of the clergy or a lay worker. Next to attending the conference the reading of the addresses as now presented, will do much to the strengthening of Christian life and character. The book is copyrighted by the conference committee and contains the entire subject matter of thirty-one speeches.

The book is now being sent out through the mail to all subscribers, but a number of copies are reserved for future orders. The price has been fixed at $3 per copy, about the actual cost of production.

Congregational Church Services Next Sunday

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock the speaker at the Congregational church will be the Rev. Dr. Harris E. Kirk, minister of the Franklin street Presbyterian church of Baltimore. Rev. C. C. Woodruff of the Centenary Methodist church of Newark will conduct the service. Communion will follow the morning session. The preacher Sunday evening will again be Dr. Kirk with Rev. Mr. Woodruff presiding. Thursday evening 7:15, the mid-week prayer service will be held in charge of Walter H. Waite, chairman of the board of Deacons. Friday evening, 7, there will be a social evening in the church vestry to which all are invited. The speaker Sept. 8 will be announced later.

Its Back To School

School bells will ring again. Next Tuesday, Sept. 3, the high school and the grammar schools of this town, will reopen after the summer vacation and the scholars will wend their way to the classroom to undertake for another year the studies to equip them for life's duties. All the teachers have returned from their vacations, eager to give the best, they possess to the education of youth. Arrangements for caring for the scholars of Center school will continue as last season, until the new school building can be completed. The roster of teachers for our schools is as follows:

High school, Richard A. Cobb, Evelyn G. Lawley, Julia B. Austin, Phyllis B. Turner, Agnes M. Casey, and Priscilla Lawrence. Center school, Walter B. Harding, Elizabeth G. Braley, Esther M. Williams, Mary E. Dalton, Ruth E. Hawkins. East school, Grace B. Browning, Margaret L. Hubbard, (one vacancy). West school, Ruth W. Bolton; No. 3 school, Dorothy O. Totman; Farms school, Dorothy M. Clough.

Philip Gompers, a member of the group of refugees from Holland, who have been living here, has secured a position at Fitchburg and will provide a home there for his mother and child, within a short time.

Henry Parkman, Jr. Republican Candidate For The U. S. Senate

Henry Parkman, Jr. the Republican candidate for the United States Senate from Massachusetts is an outstanding liberal Republican, well known about the state, for his ability, honesty and integrity. Active in many of the political endeavors in behalf of the commonwealth, and standing for sane government, he will be accorded a popular support. He has been the corporation counsel of the city of Boston since 1938. He was born in Boston in 1894, graduated from Harvard, where he received his degree, and also graduated from the Harvard Law school. During the World War he was a captain of infantry and saw service in France. In 1924 he was admitted to the bar, and his political record notes his service as a member of the Boston city council, delegate to the 1928 and 1936 Republican national convention, a member of the state senate, head of the state Republican club, member of many important state committees and identified with several progressive organizations. He is a recognized authority on state cooperation and labor laws. Many in Northfield have had the privilege of meeting Mr. Parkman, upon his recent visits here and he will be given a whole hearted support at the coming election. Henry Parkman, Jr. will make a good team mate, for Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. in the Senate of the United States.

On The Usual Date

Governor Leverett Saltonstall has said that he will name Thursday, Nov. 28 as Thanksgiving day in Massachusetts regardless of the date President Roosevelt may name in his proclamation.

Gill School Opening

Harry A. Erickson of Mt. Hermon, who is chairman of the Gill school committee has announced that the re-opening of the Gill schools will be on Tuesday, Sept. 3. The West Gill school will be closed and pupils will be transported to either the Sunnyside or North Schools. Miss Grace Randall of West Northfield who formerly taught at the West school will teach, instead at the North school, in the Press next week.

Tuskegee Singers Are At The Hotel This Friday Evening

The well known and widely advertised Tuskegee Quintette from the Tuskegee Institute, founded by the late Booker T. Washington, of Tuskegee, Alabama, will appear in a concert at the Northfield hotel, this Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The program will be rendered in the parlor of the hotel and will feature the ever popular negro melodies. Seats will be provided the guests of the hotel and members of the Northfield club and such other space as may be available for interested friends. Northfield is indeed fortunate in having this group of singers visit here, and Manager A. Gordon Moody is to be congratulated in securing their appearance. These five famous singers have been heard in radio and on concert stage and their program is both entertaining and educational. A large audience will greet them tonight.

THE LAST GIFT

I leave this book for you, O, friend of mine,
To speak for me that day my lips are dumb.
A silent messenger I bid it come
To gain the welcome I must needs resign.

I pray you on that night you miss me most,
That night when most you crave a word of me,
Beside your fire and once again my host,
Open this book and greet me silently;

And read the poem that the worn page shows
I loved the best, and linger on the line

I marked there, as to say, "Lo, once a rose
I closed here for your finding, that was mine."

And otherwise, I know that you will say,
"Perchance she smiled here," and your smile will break
Upon your lips for our old laughter's sake.

And I shall hear, though very far away
And in your reading, if perchance you see
Upon one page a stain a tear might leave,
I doubt not our two hands may meet and cleave

Once more in their old bond of sympathy,
Yes, in the mists of that dim borderland,
Beyond our wildered thought of time and space.

I think our souls a little while may stand
And look a moment in each other's face.

—Theodosia Garrison

Unitarian Services

There will be no service at the Unitarian church on Sunday, but on Sunday Sept. 8 the church will be reopened and the speaker will be the Rev. George Williams of Rochester, N. Y. who will also preach on Sunday, Sept. 15. Complete announcement will be made in the Press next week.

Republican Candidate
For Re-election to Congress

The Rutland Fair

The Rutland Fair, opens Labor Day, next Monday and continues day and night through that week. This Fair, the largest in New England, is anxiously awaited by thousands.

In addition to the exceptionally fine agricultural, educational and industrial exhibits, the Fair management has contracted for a wide variety of free entertainments and attractions.

Harness racing will be featured the first four days of the Fair. The race program of the Fair has always been one of the outstanding meetings of the East. This year, the Fair will open on Labor Day with four races, including the 2:12 Stake Trot and the meeting will be brought to a close on Thursday with the feature event, the Free-for-all Pace.

Among the entries in this event are Forbes Direct, 2:01 1/4, Her Ladyship, 1:56 3/4, The Widower, 1:59 1/4, Earl West 2:01 1/4 and Guy Put 2:03 1/4. While the event is not likely to witness the lowering of the track record of 2:00 1/4 established last year by Billy Direct, no field of Free-for-all pacers has appeared on the Rutland track as evenly matched as the 1940 entries.

On Friday automobile racing will be the feature of the afternoon program when a six event card, sanctioned by the contest board of the AAA, will be presented. Lucky Teter and his famous Hell Drivers will hold forth on Saturday afternoon.

During Fair Week "The Echoes of Broadway" with the Gae Foster Girls will be the feature attraction of the evening program. Prominent among the many specialties is Reg Kehoe's marimba band, a new musical novelty.

In addition to the mentioned features ten all-star vaudeville and circus acts have been booked, the largest carnival company routing through the East will provide midway attractions and at the close of the evenings program each day there will be an elaborate fireworks display.

Officials pronounce this year's program as one of the best ever presented at the Rutland Fair and a large attendance is anticipated.

More Refugees Arrive

Mrs. E. St. John Catchpool and her three children, Frank, 15, Joan, 14, and Heather, 12, arrived in Northfield, Monday evening, to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Smith for the duration of the war. Leaving Liverpool Aug. 16 on the Duchess of Atholl, the family arrived at Montreal Aug. 23, their voyage including a submarine scare and lifeboat drill. The ship was conveyed part way by a destroyer.

Mrs. Catchpool's husband, head of the Youth Hostel association of England and Wales, president of the International Youth Hostel conference, a prominent Quaker, and widely known settlement worker, remains in England to assist in evacuation work.

Edward Allen and family from Malden are guests of his sister, Mrs. W. H. DesJardins at their home on the Ridge.

Local Friends Attend Grandin-Wilson Wedding Last Saturday Afternoon

The wedding of Miss Susanna Preston Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Edward Waring Wilson of York Harbour, Maine and John Livingston Grandin, Jr. of Boston, took place in the First Parish church of York Village, Maine last Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rex Stowers Clements. Many friends from the Northfield schools, of which Mr. Grandin is a trustee, attended the wedding.

The bride, a descendant of General John Cabell Breckinridge, United States Senator from Kentucky and Vice President of the United States in the Buchanan administration, was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Lieut. Col. Robert L. Montague. She wore a gown of white lace, made with a heart-shaped neckline and long, puffed sleeves and with a long train of tulle. She wore also a tulle veil, caught with orange blossoms and fastened to a lace cap, and carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Montague was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a frock of blue organza and carried pink roses, delphinium and bouvardia. Richard M. Grandin was best man for his brother.

Mr. Grandin and his bride will go to Honolulu on their wedding trip. After Nov. 1 they will make their home in Boston.

Both are expected to visit Northfield at frequent intervals, as Mr. Grandin will continue his interest in the Northfield schools of which his father John L. Grandin is chairman of the board.

To Visit In Mexico

Since the Virginia Camp has closed its work, and the last camper has returned to New York, Miss Harper its director, has concluded her services for this year and left Northfield this week for a three months vacation and visit in Mexico. The camp has entertained three groups of New York City children during the past season and was eminently successful. There is considerable need for more equipment for another season and to supply this need the musicale was held at Music hall last night, which proved most entertaining to the audience present.

Postmasters Coming Here

Before the close of the summer meeting of the Western Massachusetts Postmasters association, which was held at North Adams last week, it was voted that the fall session shall be held in Northfield, upon invitation of the retiring president, Postmaster Skilton of this town. Accordingly arrangements are being made for the gathering which will convene sometime in October at the Northfield hotel. Postmaster E. F. Cooney of Northampton is the new president of the Association.

Lift Up THINE Eyes

IN the five generations since 1740, we Americans have performed the heroic task of clearing, populating, farming, industrializing and civilizing a country larger than England, France, Germany, Spain and Italy put together.

Because we have looked always forward and upward, and have worked hard, we have achieved the highest standard of living in the world.

One of the most potent of all the forces that have created this living standard is advertising, which inspires us to want always the new and better things and ways of life.

Of late years it has been the fashion among our radical reformers to attack advertising as an economic waste.

How silly, in view of the magnificent service it has rendered us! Let's encourage it and use it for an ever brighter future.

By BETTY BARCLAY

It is not necessary to prepare an elaborate or expensive dish in order to present your family or your guests with something that may rightly be termed a "delicacy." Some of the most attractive and healthful delicacies imaginable may be served regularly by those who must at all times practice economy. The illustration shows a dish of tomatoes stuffed with lima beans. The only ingredients called for are tomatoes, lettuce, dried lima beans and a little mayonnaise dressing — yet the result is not only a "delicacy" but a very healthful well balanced delicacy at that. Lima beans are one of our most important protein foods and stand at the top of the list of popular foods so far as percentage of alkalinity is concerned.

Here is the simple recipe, followed by another that you will find equally desirable:

Tomatoes Stuffed With Limas
Peel tomatoes, remove centers and fill with cooked, dried limas mixed with mayonnaise dressing. Place on lettuce, cover top with mayonnaise dressing and place a row of cooked limas around the tomato.

Limas With Sausage
½ pound sausage
1 medium-sized onion
1 cup cooked, dried limas
1 cup tomatoes
½ teaspoon chili
½ teaspoon salt
Fry onion and sausage until well done. Add other ingredients and simmer for 30 minutes.

Said What She Thought

In Springfield, at the Municipal Auditorium Tuesday evening, Dorothy Thompson was one of the speakers at a meeting under the auspices of the Springfield Committee to defend America. The auditorium was crowded with 4000 people and 2000 were outside. She said "the United States can help win 'the cheapest war that was ever fought for us' only by extending to Great Britain strong moral encouragement and the essential material aid of destroyers and supplies." Miss Thompson castigated Hitler and the Nazis, inveighed with deadly seriousness against "broken-down isolationists" and lampooned with biting humor the complacency of democracies.

THE VOWS OF MEN

Write on the sand when the water is low,
Seek the spot when the waters flow,
Whisper a name when the storm is heard,
Pause that echo may catch the word.
If what you wrote on the sand should last,
If echo is heard mid the tempests' blast,
Then believe and not till then
There is truth in the vows of men.
Throw a rose on the stream at morn,
Watch at eve for the flower's return.
Drop in the ocean a golden grain.
Hope 'twill shine on the shore again.
If the rose you again behold,
If you gaze on your grain of gold
Then believe, and not till then
There is truth in the vows of men.

Try This Orange Lemon Marmalade

By BETTY BARCLAY

This Orange Lemon Marmalade is just the thing to restock pantry shelves as the summer's jams and jellies run low. Slice very thin 2 unpeeled lemons and 4 unpeeled medium-sized oranges. Measure the sliced fruit and add three times as much water. Mark water line with pencil on inside of kettle. Boil 45 minutes. Replace liquid boiled away with water to pencil mark.

Add 1½ cups sugar for each 2 cups of cooked fruit mixture. Cook in 2-cup lots in a large kettle, boiling vigorously until syrup gives a jelly test of thick, reluctant drops from side of spoon (12 to 15 minutes). Now add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Boil again for about 1 minute and make a second jelly test. Pour into sterilized glasses. Cover with paraffin when cold.

Before pouring into glasses, it is well to cool marmalade 5 minutes, stirring frequently to prevent floating fruit. California Navel oranges are best for this marmalade, being firm-meshed, clean-skinned and easy to slice, because seedless. In February and March they are at just the right stage of ripeness for fine marmalade.

and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew visited their brother Clayton Stanchliff at the Veterans hospital in White River, Jct., Vt., last week.

Mrs. W. C. Tyler has been ill and under the care of a nurse.

Ozias Gauthier went to Albany recently for treatment at a hospital there.

Mrs. Warren Dunklee and daughter Alma returned from Burlington, Vt. where they attended the N. E. Grange Lecturers conference.

William G. Hilliard has been transferred from Palmer to St. Albans, Vt. with the Wanold Construction Co. He visited at his parents home last week.

Mrs. Robert Bruce is ill at her home here. Robert Bruce, who has also been ill has improved.

Services Well Attended

At the Congregational church last Sunday, large audiences greeted the speaker, Rev. Herbert Gezork, at both the morning and evening services. In the morning Mrs. Dorothy Pearson Bolton and Al Raymond sung solos and the Hotel Trio rendered musical selections. The choir participated in the singing. The evening service drew an unusually large audience as Mr. Gezork spoke of "Germany under Hitler."

Cooks Are Cooking Cookies

—By Frances Lee Barton—

COOKS are cooking cookies when the frost is in the air. Or perhaps the word is "baking." Confidentially, I don't care. I only know that cookies are now munched 'most everywhere, and the little tip below will assure your friends their share:

Coconut Orange Cookies
2 cups sifted cake flour; ½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 1 cup oatmeal; 1 cup butter or other shortening; 4 tablespoons grated orange rind; 1½ cups sugar; 3 eggs, unbeaten; ¼ cup shredded coconut; 4 tablespoons milk.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and cinnamon, and sift together three times. Add oatmeal. Cream butter and orange rind thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each egg; then coconut and blend. Add flour alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Drop from teaspoon on ungreased baking sheet, placing far apart. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until done. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Here's A New Cake

—By Frances Lee Barton—

PLACE one hundred and twenty-eight square inches of this sugar crumb coffee cake before your family and watch the faces light up. Sounds like a big cake, doesn't it? Well! It only requires an 8x8x2-inch pan, at that.

Sugar Crumb Coffee Cake
1½ cups sifted cake flour; 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; 3 tablespoons butter or other shortening; ¾ cup sugar; 1 egg, unbeaten; 5 tablespoons milk; 1½ tablespoons butter; 4 tablespoons cake flour; 2 tablespoons confectioner's sugar; dash of salt; ¼ teaspoon cinnamon; few drops of almond extract; ¼ cup chopped walnut meats.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream butter, add sugar gradually, creaming well. Add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition. Turn into greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Cream butter well. Sift together flour, sugar, salt, and cinnamon; add to batter. Add almond extract and nuts and blend. Sprinkle over cake mixture. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes, or until done. Serve warm.
Or bake in greased deep 8-inch layer pan in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 minutes, or until done.

Volume UP
Price DOWN

IT HAS BEEN SAID that advertising increases the price of goods.

True, advertising is part of the manufacturer's and merchant's cost of doing business, all of which must be covered in the price of his goods if he is to stay in business.

But advertising helps boost sales and production. Bigger volume cuts cost per unit made and sold. To meet competition the saving is passed on to the public in the form of a lower price.

Think of the prices of radios, mechanical refrigerators and heating appliances, automobiles, light bulbs and other products when first introduced and sold in small volume. Compare with their prices today, after advertising won them enormous acceptance! Successful advertising decreases the price of goods.

Cans

By Frances Lee Barton

WE all have canned fruit juices and fruits on our emergency shelves. Here are some recipes that will enable you to utilize these cans and prepare novel, delicious tastes at any time:

Canned Fruit
Tapoca

3½ cups canned fruit juice and water; 4 tablespoons quick-cooking tapoca; ¼ cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 to 1½ cups prepared canned fruit; 1 to 3 tablespoons lemon juice.

Combine fruit juice and water, tapoca, sugar, and salt in saucepan and mix well. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin. Do not overcook.) Add fruit and lemon juice. Cool, stirring occasionally — mixture thickens as it cools. Chill. Serve in sherbet glasses with plain or whipped cream. Serves 6 to 8.

For Apple, Plum, or Prune Tapoca, use 1½ cups diced canned fruit and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. For Pineapple or Raspberry Tapoca, use 1 cup canned crushed pineapple or canned red raspberries and 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

For Peach Tapoca, use 1½ cups diced canned peaches and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. For Cherry Tapoca, use 1½ cups canned seeded red cherries.

ABANDONED PETS

The time has arrived when summer visitors will soon leave for their homes in the cities, and a word should be said as a plea to them, not to abandon any pets, which they may have enjoyed during the summer season. Each year there are found abandoned cats and sometimes dogs, which come to the homes of the permanent residents seeking food and protection, after clinging to their old familiar haunts for days and weeks, craving for something to eat and shivering in the cold nights. The Editors cat which is now loved and cherished was once an abandoned pet. If you are a summer resident and have a pet, think well of it, and take it home with you, or at least find some other home for it when you depart.

WE ARE PATRIOTIC

Freedom and liberty are two great privileges of our American citizenship. They are worth living for and dying for if need be. We are all Americans in that sense of devotion and from a casual check-up in this town, there are but few "slackers" and no "fifth columnists." Response for enlistments by our men in the various services have been flattering and our women have thus far helped out in the calls which have been made upon them. The "cry" of the refugee has been heard here and the doors have opened. America is in action, and through conscription, the watchword will be "liberty and strength." Citizens of Northfield will keep in step. The demagogue, the pacifist, the isolationist will discover their silence is golden here.

MONROE DOCTRINE

The Monroe Doctrine was originally a statement of the policy of the United States conceived by Jefferson, John Quincy Adams and

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE

President Monroe. The historical facts show that the wise statesmen in those early days were wise enough not to convert the Monroe Doctrine into a law. They let it ride, like a fireside chat, or a challenge such as President Roosevelt has hurled across the into the camps of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin. Not many people remember these latter utterances in a year from now.

But the Monroe Doctrine proved to be such an effective message to Congress that it survived, alongside Washington's and Lincoln's great legacies in thinking. The United States was pretty cocky in those early days after we had defeated the British and told France and its Mr. Ganet, to mind their own business.

Know Massachusetts

Compiled by
State Planning Board

Do you know that of the 1,021,160 families in Massachusetts in 1930, only 103,258 lived in towns of less than 2500 population and only 18,552 of these lived on farms. The median size of family in Massachusetts is about 3.4 persons. During the first six months of 1940, unemployment compensation payments in the Commonwealth totaled between 15 and 16 million dollars. Current surplus available for payments is approximately $75,000.

000 . . . A law passed in 1649 required that anyone using tobacco in a public inn could do so only in a private room. . . Shays' Rebellion in 1786, which centered in Worcester county, so alarmed the various state governments that it helped much in bringing about acceptance of the Constitution of the United States. . . In 1830 the only stocking factory in the United States was located at Newburyport. . . The first telescopes manufactured in the United States were made by Alvan Clark and his sons in Cambridge in the 1850s. In early models the reflector was made of bell metal. . . The Massachusetts State seal was adopted in 1775 by the Provincial Congress and was intended as a message to England. Translated it means: "By the sword we seek peace, but peace only under liberty." . . . ### Save A Life A Day In China

By Edith G. Traver
Three cents a day will save a life in China.
One stick of gum a full-sized meal will pay.
One all-day sucker gives a man his dinner.
One ice cream feeds four children for a day.

One movie ticket means two weeks of living.
One cigarette is one meal gone in smoke.
One ginger ale could go to feed a dozen.
Three days of life in China cost a coke.

Only a dollar! It's a month to live in!
Only a dime! For three days' life to pay!
Only a penny! Yet it serves a dinner!
And we're a guest—a Chinese guest—today!
Alhambra, California.

A House With a Glass Dining Room

MOST striking feature of this easy-to-own home is its unusual dining porch, facing north, two walls of which are built of gleaming glass blocks that softly diffuse outside light to create a dream-like interior atmosphere. Few people realize how incredibly beautiful and useful such light-filled, glass block walls can be. For besides flooding a room with softly diffused light, they also insulate against summer heat and winter cold. Hence their name, Insular glass blocks.

Randolph Evans, the well-known American architect, who designed this house for the Moody Small Home Club, 140 Nassau Street, New York, has also used glass blocks in two panels flanking the front door. Not being transparent like ordinary glass, they light the entry foyer, yet still protect the privacy of the occupants.

FLOOR PLAN

Another unusual feature of its plan is the interior heating room. By placing all heating and hot water equipment in a room in the middle of the house, the architect has saved valuable window space for living and bedrooms. Extra wide window boxes—wide as windows and shutters combined—are another innovation, designed to add a bank of colorful flowers and planting to harmonize with clap-boarded walls, shutters and asphalt shingled roof. For color, says the architect of this house, is all-important. Exterior colors for it should be chosen with care. He recommends the following palette to give it individuality and charming appeal: Roof: Red-orange asphalt shingles; walls: beige; front door, cornice and corner posts: chalk white; shutters: faded blue. And to pick up the rich red-orange color of its fire-resistant roof shingles, he suggests that the path leading to the front door be made of common brick, laid either in cement or sand.

Square and simple in plan, this house should cost no fortune. Mr. Evans estimates that it can be built for about $4,000 in most parts of the country, exclusive of land. Although it contains no garage, it will sit on a fifty foot lot and still leave room for a future garage driveway.
